Metro Wire and Cable, Corp. Announces Corporate Level Leadership Hiring

Metro Wire and Cable is pleased to announce the hiring of Nathan (Nate) Tallman as Corporate Development and Marketing Director. Tallman will be charged with leading the corporate strategy for public relations, community outreach, human resources, goal and vision setting, marketing and social media, corporate development, government relations, compliance, and employee development.

Tallman comes to Metro after serving in several business capacities in the post-secondary education sector. Most recently, Tallman served as the Corporate Director of Government Relations at Ross Learning, LLC in St. Clair, Michigan. Prior to that, Tallman held administrative and faculty posts at Northwood University and Central Michigan University.

Donald Ezop, President and CEO of Metro Wire and Cable, states “We are very excited to welcome Nate to our team at Metro. Not only will he bring a focus on employee development and leadership, he will also bring a strong business development presence to our growing organization.”

Tallman has served on a variety of administrative and executive leadership teams within a variety of sectors and has extensive experience leading and managing organizations. Specifically, Tallman has directed a variety of capacities including public relations and marketing, business and entrepreneurial affairs, leadership development, government affairs, personalized learning in various settings, community outreach, and critical thinking initiatives.
