Thirty-Five Years of Growth, Change, and Service for Corporate Controller

Apocalypse Now, All That Jazz, Kramer vs. Kramer, and Breaking Away were the top movies of 1979, the same year Susan Wesley joined Metro Wire and Cable, Corp. During the month of January, Wesley, Controller and Office Administrator, celebrated her thirty-fifth anniversary with the company, a rare and auspicious accomplishment in the workplace.

“After thirty-five years, I have watched this company (Metro Wire and Cable) grow from a very small staff, to a much larger, multi-branch corporation. We are flourishing in the industry and continuing to become an even more successful company,” states Wesley. “I have gained many things along the way, including lifelong friendships, personal growth, and many memories.”

Employees commemorated the many accomplishments of Wesley in January with a recognition dinner and reception on her behalf. Donald D. Ezop, President and CEO, stated at the dinner that thanks to Susan’s adaptability, Metro Wire has grown in part to become the company it is today. “Thanks to her willingness to always go the extra mile, Susan has been a great example and mentor to many of our current and former employees.”
