Metro Wire and Cable, Corp. Warehouse Specialists Complete Training Program

Making all employees knowledgeable of the properties, applications, and various differences of wire and cable has been Metro Wire and Cable's mantra since the company's founding in 1976. Last month, Metro Wire and Cable's Southeast Distribution Facility (Lawrenceville, GA) warehouse completed a multi-month, rigorous training program to better help customers and the applications that they seek.

During the course of the program, successfully completed by 100% of the warehouse personal, modules were presented weekly followed by tests to gauge retention and knowledge of the material. The training program, led by Regional Sales Manager Richard Wade, was successfully completed by: Brian Rogers, Michael Rider, Julio Sanchez, and Tarus Sadler.

"This program has allowed for our warehouse employees to provide a greater level of customer service when working with our customers" stated Tom Gartrelle, Metro Wire and Cable's Atlanta warehouse manager. "When making deliveries or interacting with customers who purchase and pick-up material at our location, we can better discuss with them their goals and applications for their purchase."

Metro Wire & Cable provides value added handling, warehousing, supply chain, and delivery services of wire and cable products for a broad spectrum of markets. With locations in Michigan, Georgia, and Iowa, MWC specializes in working alongside public utilities, electrical contractors, wind-farm developers, commercial and industrial HVAC industries, traffic signal and airport lighting contractors, Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEM's) and the security industry.
