Nathan (Nate) Tallman serves as Metro Wire and Cable's Vice President. Overseeing wide-ranging aspects of Metro's day-to-day operations, Nate has been a member of the Metro team since 2012.

Prior to joining Metro, Nate held various leadership posts in the post-secondary and higher education industry. Student success, operations, leadership development, community outreach and fundraising management allowed Nate an opportunity to work with a variety of corporations, communities, state and local governments. "My path to Metro may seem unconventional in the industry, but having these various experiences (health care, manufacturing, education) has allowed me to work with individuals in several industries that we support on a daily basis," Nate said.

Since joining the Metro Wire team, Nate has taken on several roles, including overseeing various sales functions, human resource management, marketing and branding, business development, and client outreach with some of Metro's largest accounts. "The various roles I have had with Metro has really allowed me to meet many of our great customers and vendors," states Nate. "I really enjoy working with our employees to provide solutions to our customers' needs and allowing them to grow and be successful. Internally, I am most proud of several operational changes we have made that have had a direct impact on the way we provide unique service and value to our customers."

In addition to his role at Metro Wire, Nate is very involved in several national, state, and local organizations, serving on various Board of Director's and advisory groups. A proud Central Michigan University graduate, Nate states, "community service, leadership, and professional development have always been important to me. I am thankful for the mentorship of many to shape my personal and professional present day and future, and enjoy giving back."

Nate and his wife (Nicole) reside with their two children in Metro Detroit. In his spare time, Nate enjoys spending time with family and friends, being outdoors, and attending professional and collegiate sporting events.
